

PAULA BEL

Headlining in clubs across the country, a favored performer in Europe and having toured with the USO, Paula is a true original.

Only six years into her stand-up career, she performed on “The Tonight Show.” Being one of the first to perform at “The Aspen Comedy Festival,” Paula soon after received a development deal with the Warner brothers Network.

Paula’s numerous television appearances and writing style make her one of the most unique and funniest female comics performing today.
